

Artistic pole

Since 1996, the municipality set up an ambitious politic of patrimonial, environmental and tourist valuation.

So, Sainte Eulalie d'Olt welcomed various artists and art craftsmen.

To strengthen the municipality, a former barn, from the 17th century and well situated, between the principal car park and the Curières de Castelnau castle (15th century), was restored to allow the settling of new artists or craftsmen.

This building, opened since May 2002, is called « Eulalie of Art ». There are 6 workshops there and the Tourist Information Point.

This development of the artistical and craftsman art domain created dynamics which exceeded limits of the municipality.

Indeed, after some years in « Eulalie of Art », some creators wanted to settle down in the village or in municipalities around Sainte Eulalie d'Olt.

So, others creators took advantage of those rooms to develop their activity.

Sainte Eulalie d'Olt is delighted of this evolution which never ends, allowing a development for the village and for its surroundings.